Your Choices

For certain health information, you can tell us your choices about what we share. If you have a clear preference for how we share your information in the situations described below, talk to us. Tell us what you want us to do, and we will follow your instructions.

In these cases, you have the right and choice to tell us to:

- Share information with your family, close friends, or others involved in payment for your care
  - Share information in a disaster relief situation
- If you are not able to tell us your preference, for example if you are unconscious, we may go ahead and share your information if we believe it is in your best interest. We may also share your information when needed to lessen a serious and imminent threat to health or safety.*

In these cases we never share your information unless you give us written permission:

- Marketing purposes
- Sale of your information
- Most sharing of psychotherapy notes

Our Uses and Disclosures

A. How do we typically use or share your health information? We typically use or share your health information in the following ways.

Run our Organization

- We can use and disclose your information to run our organization and contact you when necessary.

Example: We use health information about you to develop better services for you.

Administer your plan

- We may disclose your health information to your health plan sponsor for plan administration.

Example: Your company contracts with us to provide a health plan, and we provide your company with certain statistics to explain the premiums we charge.

B. How else can we use or share your health information? We are allowed or required to share your information in other ways – usually in ways that contribute to the public good, such as public health and research. We have to meet many conditions in the law before we can share your information for these purposes.

Help with public health and safety issues

- We can share health information about you for certain situations such as:
  - Preventing disease
  - Reporting births and deaths
  - Helping with product recalls
  - Reporting adverse reactions to medications
  - Reporting suspected abuse, neglect, or domestic violence
  - Preventing or reducing a serious threat to anyone’s health or safety

Do research

- We can use or share your information for health research.

Comply with the law

- We will share information about you if state or federal laws require it, including with the Department of Health and Human Services if it wants to see that we’re complying with federal privacy law.

Respond to organ and tissue donation requests

- We can share health information about you with organ procurement organizations.

Military and Veterans’ Requests

- If you are a member of the armed forces, we may release medical information about you as required by the military. We may also release medical information about foreign military personnel to the appropriate foreign military authority.

Work with a medical examiner or funeral director

- We can share health information with a coroner, medical examiner, or funeral director when an individual dies.

Work with a correctional institution

- If you are an inmate of a correctional institution or under the custody of a law enforcement official, we may release medical information about you for the institution to provide you with health care, to protect your health and safety and the health and safety of others, or for the safety and security of the correctional institution.
